PARTNERSHIP REQUESTS

Partners Research in 2016-2017 Security European Call for proposals

The proposed project: Aim of the project is to use and develop further visual intelligence to look into information. Like a human being a system can be learned to interpret documents, images and videos. A system can so be learned to differ between e.g. legal and illegal material. Spread of material can in this way be prevented and reported. Examples could be images of child sexual abuse, terrorism but also of documents not intended to leave an organisation.

They are looking for partners in order to answer the follow European call for proposals:

Technologies for prevention, investigation, and mitigation in the context of fight against crime and terrorism
